

NewIntelligence and Linfa Systems Partner to Deliver Superior Reporting & Dashboarding for WMS clients running SAP Business One

Friday, August 30th, 2024 – MONTREAL, Quebec, Canada – NewIntelligence (NI) (sap.NewIntelligence.ca), a trusted IBM Business Partner, is thrilled to announce a groundbreaking strategic alliance with Linfa Systems Solutions (linfasystems.com), a premier WMS implementation provider specializing in Warehouse Management Systems (WMS) based in New York. This dynamic partnership is set to elevate the NI QuickStart for Reporting and Dashboarding for SAP Business One, broadening its capabilities and delivering advanced warehouse management solutions to clients globally.

Corey Mendelsohn, President of NewIntelligence, expressed his excitement about the new partnership, stating, “Partnering with Linfa Systems strengthens our core offerings and significantly extends our reach. This collaboration empowers our SAP Business One clients with a superior warehouse management solution. Linfa Systems’ deep expertise in supply chain and WMS perfectly aligns with our mission to deliver exceptional analytics solutions, ensuring our clients receive not only accurate but also highly efficient services.”

NI QuickStart for Reporting and Dashboarding for SAP Business One is engineered to simplify the process of report development and customization of business rules, utilizing a separate reporting database. This innovative solution streamlines analytics for business users, following best practices across approximately thirty key subject areas within SAP Business One. Integrated with IBM Cognos, NI QuickStart provides instant, easily distributable insights, designed to meet the dynamic needs of small and medium-sized businesses within the SAP Business One ecosystem.

Giancarlo Fransvea, CEO and Co-Founder of Linfa Systems Solutions, emphasized the strategic importance of the partnership, stating, “Our collaboration with NewIntelligence marks a pivotal advancement in warehouse management system solutions for SAP Business One users. By integrating NI QuickStart with our powerful WMS platform, we are transforming the insights and visibility of the WMS by incorporating the valuable information from standard documents of SAP B1 ERP, along with the detailed times and auditability of our system. This not only enhances our offerings but also sets a new benchmark for WMS solutions with robust reporting and tracking capabilities. We look forward to working closely with NewIntelligence to deliver unprecedented value and innovation to the SMB market.”

This strategic partnership underscores the shared commitment of NewIntelligence and Linfa Systems to deliver state-of-the-art solutions that address the evolving complexities faced by their clients. Together, they are poised to drive growth, foster innovation, and enhance service delivery for businesses worldwide.
